

Join the international Nuclear Heritage Network

The Nuclear Heritage Network is an informal international alliance of anti-nuclear activists. We want to support each other, exchange information and share resources to strengthen the anti-nuclear struggles worldwide. The Nuclear Heritage Network is a platform for activists providing tools and means for anti-nuclear activities. It also aims to connect activists with each other and with experts, organizers and other multipliers.

This form will help us to connect with you and to give you an overview of tools and projects of the international network.

Get connected

The main tool to be connected with other activists within the Nuclear Heritage Network is an email mailing list. This mailing list is supposed to discuss network activities and to share information about activities of activists of the network.

☐ I want to subscribe the "nuclear-heritage" mailing list.

NukeNews

The NukeNews are a multilingual system of newsletters made by anti-nuclear activists from several countries to inform other activists and the interested public about atomic policies and developments in their regions, about anti-nuclear campaigns and actions, and to spread the word about topics they are working on. The email newsletters are released every three months. Find out more online at <http://NukeNews.Nuclear-Heritage.NET> - and select the language versions you want to subscribe:

☐ Czech   ☐ English   ☐ French   ☐ Finnish   ☐ German   ☐ Lithuanian   ☐ Russian   ☐ Slovenian

The NukeNews are a join in project - we are looking for people to provide the newsletter with short news about topics they are working on, who continuously support with translations or want to start a new language version. Tell us if you can help with something:

Multilingual flyers

One intension of the Nuclear Heritage Network is to support your local anti-nuclear work. Together with local groups or individuals we produce simple flyers in A4 format (see the last page to get an overview on some examples, or check <http://material.Nuclear-Heritage.NET>) in several languages. The basic versions we produce will be published in English and in the local language. Step by step we try to create other language versions.

- ☐ I have an idea for a new flyer, please contact me to produce it. Topic: _____
- ☐ I want to translate an existing flyer: _____ new language: _____

Translation project

Connected to our international work many materials, articles and texts need to be translated into different languages. We appreciate your translation support or if you want to proofread text.

Activities

In this section we offer you to tell us if you are interested in certain international events activists of the Nuclear Heritage Network are involved to. We will then connect you to the organizers of these activities to join them. Some events are bigger (e.g. the Castor protests in Germany), in this case we would connect you to groups focussing on activities with foreign activists. You find more information about actions and projects on the network's website.

Several projects and actions were results of network gatherings or other events of the Nuclear Heritage Network. The "Olkiluoto Blockade" in Finland was initiated by the network, and became one of the most important gatherings of anti-nuclear activists throughout Finland taking place since 2010 every year and with international participation. In 2010 a two months campaign, the "Baltic Sea Info Tour", took place in 10 countries around the Baltic Sea with a number of street actions, information events and local networking gatherings. An international project with activists of the Nuclear Heritage Network involved to was also the "Ranua Rescue" project to campaign against uranium mining attempts in northern Finland. 2011 we were coordinators for the international guests of the Castor protests in Germany.

Support international anti-nuclear networking!

All activities of the Nuclear Heritage Network are based on unpaid contributions of committed people and activists. Usually we don't have big budgets for the costs connected to printing materials, organizing gatherings or traveling to international events. Instead, we can organize these activities because groups and individuals are sharing some of their resources with each other. For example some organizations provide infrastructure or take over costs of certain events or actions. Or someone offers to print/copy materials for free. The networking requires some cash, anyway. Thus, we appreciate much any contribution you can make to support this work.

- ☐ I will to donate for... ☐ the basic work of the network ☐ a specific campaign/project
- ☐ I want to support the network by sharing following resources: _____
- ☐ I can help in a different way: _____

For your donations we can provide you with a tax-deductible donation receipt. Just tell us if you need it.

Network community website

The website of the Nuclear Heritage Network is based on the same software like "Wikipedia" - activists can create user accounts and edit pages or add contents. To apply a user account you follow the link "Log in / create account" in the right corner of the top of the website. There you can request an account by filling the form.

On the Nuclear Heritage Network website we provide some "country pages" started and updated by activists from these regions providing background information and contacts. Our website also attempts to provide an overview of upcoming events in several countries of the world, a platform to reach media, many materials to spread the word about atomic topics, several mailing lists and newsletters and a huge gallery of photos from actions and nuclear facilities free for use in your anti-nuclear work. Besides that, there are some project and special topic pages hosted on the network website. Add your contents, upcoming events, action photos or use the website to spread the word about your anti-nuclear work!

Find out more at <http://nuclear-heritage.net>.

Networking gatherings

Every half a year, at least once a year, we aim to organize an international networking gathering to get to know each other, share knowledge about the atomic situation in our regions and on specific topics, and organize mutual activities with each other.

- ☐ Invite me to the next network gathering. ☐ I want to help to organize the next network gathering.
☐ I would like to invite to an international network gathering in my region - please contact me to arrange that.

Atomic Threats Around The Baltic Sea

This is the name of a project of activists of the Baltic Sea region. It is the result of the 2010 "Stop Nuclear Power - Baltic Sea Info Tour", and investigates on atomic facilities and activities in the watershed of the Baltic Sea. A web-based database will gather information about all nuclear plants and projects in this region, provide contacts to groups opposing them and list resources for more information. Eventually we will produce a book, an encyclopedia on the atomic facilities around the Baltic Sea in the past, of today and which have been proposed by the nuclear lobby, providing all the information collected on our website. The project also will include information events, an exhibition and gatherings with other activists of the region. Learn more: <http://NuclearBaltic.nuclear-heritage.net>

We need your support to investigate on atomic issues in your region, to take pictures of the facilities, to translate text, to layout the book and to distribute it to anti-nuclear activists and the interested public.

- ☐ I am interested in the project. Keep me informed. ☐ I want to subscribe the project mailing list.
☐ I will help to investigate on following subjects: _____
☐ Arrange an information event in my region. ☐ Please invite me to the project meetings.
☐ I want to help with the following contributions: _____

Network Office

The International Network Office is focusing on nuclear issues, but also open for networking in other political fields. It's supposed to help to connect anti-nuclear activists internationally with others working in the same fields, to support if they are looking for experts or speakers on certain topics or to develop cooperation in mutual campaigns, projects and actions. A second aim is to provide multilingual outreach material on the topics of anti-nuclear activists and groups to spread the word internationally and to support the local efforts of people fighting nuclear power.

Now we are looking for people to volunteer with the network office. Activities are the communication with anti-nuclear groups, activists and interested people internationally to connect them with each other, to help them to find speakers for events or experts on certain topics. It's also about coordinating and helping with the production of multilingual outreach material to promote local anti-nuclear topics. Another field is the coordination or preparation of gatherings for networking personally and to stay in touch and exchange with each other. Learn more: <http://office.Nuclear-Heritage.NET>

☐ I would like to volunteer with the Network Office. Please contact me.

Spread the word

To support local anti-nuclear struggles, we produce multilingual flyers on topics activists work on. Besides that we published some materials providing background information. You can order here copies of these materials. Tick the boxes of the materials you want, and write the number of flyers to the form field if we shall send you more than one copy. Remember to tell us your address on the first page to allow us to send you the materials.

We ask you to donate the mentioned amount to cover our costs. In case you can't afford this, you can offer what you would like to pay. You can also download all the materials from <http://material.Nuclear-Heritage.NET>.
